GUADALUPE COUNTY PRESENTS SPLENDID OPPORTUNITIES for SETTLERS

the world; rain always comes time enough for the production of good crops in the nonirrigable districts; sheep, cartle and hogs are produced in abundance.

The people are orderly and law-abiding; criminal courts have little to do in the county: native population has no risktion with Anglo-Americans all live in utmost harmony.

Wonderful progress has been made, during four and one half years, in the development of the public schools.

The total expenditures for the public schools in 1910 amounted only to $22,579.

The expenditures for the year 1914-1916 aggregated $51,152.

Four years ago the school term was three and a half months; now it is seven months.

All school teachers now have good certificates and most of them speak both English and Spanish fluently.

The irrigated lands of Gua dalupe are among the best in the state, and produce large net returns to the farmers, A!falfa is one of the sure crops for profits, but most of it now is being fed to livestock and marketed on the hoof.

Land in Guadalupe county can be purchased at low prices compared to its value. Transportation is easy, railroad facilities being good.
